DEATH KNELL

Sounded to Factionism at Great Nationalist Meeting in Cork.

Largest Gathering of Recent Years Greeted Redmond and Devlin.

Speeches Instinct With Hope, Courage and Fighting Spirit.

CORK FOR NATIONAL CAUSE

From the Dundalk Democrat, one of the most reliable papers in Ireland, we take the following review of the recent meeting at Cork, which was not fairly reported by the Associated Press:

Hereafter we think it will be recorded that the great Nationalist meeting held at Cork on Sunday last sounded the death-knell of faction in the South. Until Sunday last William O'Brien labored under this delusion (among others) that the city of Cork was his personal property and special preserve—just as T. M. Healy erroneously regarded North Louth as his. When the Nationalists of Cork invited John Redmond and his lieutenants to visit them, O'Brien issued a manifesto denouncing the "invasion" of "his" city and territory. The calling of an opposition meeting for the same day was the next step, and the provision of special trains to convey O'Brien's supporters from all quarters of County Cork was the third.

The meetings were held on Sunday. Redmond and his friends addressed a gathering of between 12,000 and 15,000 people in the city of Cork on Sunday. These are the estimates of the presumably impartial Unionist press, which further states that the whole of the city of Cork seemed to be with Redmond, and that O'Brien's supporters were almost exclusively from the rural districts, from which they traveled on "passes" signed by one of O'Brien's lieutenants. There were no other "invaders" of Cork on Sunday, if we except the 500 Dublin Leaguers who visited the Southern city. True, O'Brien referred to "bludgeon men from Belfast," brought in to overawe the people of Cork! But the only Belfast man in Cork on Sunday was Joseph Devlin, M. P., and it is not recorded that he attempted to bludgeon anybody.

So much for the rival meetings. At the one Messrs. Redmond, Dillon, Devlin, Hazleton and others spoke. Some extracts from the speeches will be found elsewhere; and Mr. Redmond's address will, in view of recent developments, be found particularly interesting.

All the speeches were instinct with hope and courage and fighting spirit. Redmond defended the action of the Irish party in Parliament, and his words can not have failed to bring conviction to his hearers that the party is on the right track. He brushed aside the hypocritical and dishonest criticisms with which the factionists have endeavored to obscure the real issues, and demonstrated that the party has taken the only possible course leading up to home rule. Dealing with the future action of the party in view of the possible changes in the situation that might be supposed to follow the change of monarch, he halted the veto flag to the mast. The veto and home rule must remain the first objects of legislation on the part of the Liberal Government if it is to retain the support of the Irish party. There must be no conference or compromise between the Liberals and the defenders of the House of Lords; and none of the silly pleas for "a truce of God in the presence of death," or for "not embarrassing the new King" nor being urged by the Tory press, must prevail beyond a reasonable and decent period. The business of the State must go on no matter who is on the throne of England; and the first business of the Liberal Government is to root out the antiquated and vicious obstacle imposed by the House of Lords in the way of good government and progress.

O'Brien's opposition meeting had one good result. It enabled the readers of Monday's papers to contrast the statesmanlike speech of Redmond, firm yet restrained and reasonable, with the wild outburst of vituperation in which O'Brien indulged. O'Brien has no hope of home rule unless we first unite not alone all classes in Ireland but all classes in England in favor of it. And O'Brien's idea of uniting all Ireland is to denounce his former colleagues, the elected representatives of seventy Irish Nationalist constituencies as not alone idiots but traitors. They have sold Ireland to the Liberals, O'Brien says—omitting only to mention the price! For the rest his address, printed at length in Monday's Unionist papers, was a frenzied denunciation of the "Molly Maguires" and the alleged usurpation of all political powers in Ireland by a sectarian body, to which he added a reference to the "diabolical suppression" of his speeches in the Irish Nationalist press. Vanity was ever O'Brien's particular failing.

But Cork is safe for the National cause. That is certain after Sunday. The city that gave a royal welcome to the Irish leaders will never again give O'Brien an opportunity of slandering his countrymen in its name. The enthusiastic individuals from the rural districts who filled O'Brien's "specials" and discharged their revolvers through the windows as the trains left Cork on Sunday evening, are not to be reckoned seriously. The sober, sensible, intelligent Nationalists of Munster will be able to distinguish between the frenzied appeal of O'Brien and the sane and patriotic counsels of Messrs. Redmond and Dillon. The new movement that was to sweep like a consuming flame from Cork to Donegal is already showing symptoms of rapid decline; nor will the encouragement of the Unionist press and the patronage of Dunraven and Barrymore suffice to sustain it.

POPULAR PRIESTS

Will Celebrate Twenty-fifth Anniversary on Tuesday.

On Tuesday, while the Very Rev. Father James P. Cronin is celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination in Louisville, the Rev. Father Edward S. Fitzgerald and the Rev. Father Robert Craney will celebrate their silver jubilees at their respective stations, Owensboro and Morganfield. In each case the celebration will be marked by a solemn high mass and followed by a banquet and reception.

Fathers Fitzgerald and Craney were ordained at Preston Park Seminary on June 14, 1885, and on the same occasion that Father Cronin was ordained. Father Cronin had completed his studies the previous year, but on account of his youth had to wait. Father Fitzgerald spent several years in Louisville as pastor of St. Mary's Magdalen's church and was popular with all classes. He has been in Owensboro about fifteen years and is one of the best known and most popular men in that city.

Father Craney is thoroughly identified with the interests of Morganfield, and is highly regarded by Catholics and Protestants alike. Many clergymen of the diocese will attend these rural jubilee celebrations.

The jubilee mass of thanksgiving at Owensboro will begin at 9 o'clock with Father Fitzgerald as celebrant. He will be assisted by Rev. Father A. G. Meyerling, of Brown's Valley, as deacon; Rev. Father John D. Kalar, of Louisville, subdeacon, and Rev. William D. J. Murphy, of St. William's, Louisville, master of ceremonies. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Father Charles P. Raffo, of Louisville. St. Paul's church choir, augmented by an orchestra, will render Gounod's mass.

On Wednesday morning Father Fitzgerald will celebrate solemn high mass for the children. The Rev. Father J. R. Odendahl, of Stanley, will be the deacon, and Rev. Father Louis Herberth, of Rome, Ky., subdeacon. The Rev. Father P. J. McNeill will be master of ceremonies.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Rev. Father Hill Will Make Very Necessary Changes.

The Rev. Father John T. Hill, who has been pastor of St. Francis Xavier's church since its erection, is planning several changes and improvements. Father Hill also has charge of St. Ann's school, Seventh and Davies streets. When the school closes next week the building will be removed further south to make room for a pastoral residence. Work on this structure will begin at once, and in the immediate future St. Xavier's church will be removed from Tenth and Hill streets to Seventh and Davies.

It will be a great advantage to have the church, school house and rectory on the same grounds. That section of the city is rapidly growing, and many of the home-builders are Catholics. It is calculated that at the present rate of improvement it will be possible to erect a brick church in nine years. St. Xavier's church will be known as St. Ann's after its removal to Seventh and Davies streets.

RETAIL CLERKS

Show Appreciation of Work Done by an Able Clergyman.

Of all the many and beautiful gifts received by the Right Rev. Bishop Lawler, who was recently consecrated by Archbishop Ireland in the St. Paul Cathedral, perhaps the one that touched him most was the magnificent episcopal ring from the Retail Clerks' Association of the Twin Cities. By their gift they testified their appreciation of his efforts in securing early closing of the stores last Christmas eve.

The wish may be father to the thought, but there seems to be ground for hope that Bishop Lawler's added dignity and influence may aid rather than impede his efforts for early closing, and that the movement may become national as well as local. Certainly nothing would please the retail clerks better. Bishop Lawler claims that the late hours of the world on Saturday evening interferes with the early hours of the church on Sunday morning.

BELOVED

Pastor and Vicar General Will Celebrate Silver Jubilee.

Children, Clergy and Laity Are to Have Their Respective Parts.

Venerable Parents of the Jubilarian Will Witness the Ceremonies.

FATHER CRONIN BANQUET HOST

The celebration of the silver sacerdotal jubilee of the Very Rev. Father James P. Cronin, V. G., will begin tomorrow evening, when the children of St. Patrick's parochial school will hold their exercises in the school hall, Thirteenth and Market streets. The good Sisters, who have been preparing the children, promise a treat for Father Cronin and his clerical and lay friends. The celebration will continue on Monday and Tuesday, and Catholics throughout the diocese are interested in its religious and social success.

The exercises tomorrow and Monday night will serve the double purpose of adjunct to the jubilee and closing exercises of the school. The programme will be the same each evening. After an opening chorus by the little girls, Master Dougherty Keenan will deliver an address of welcome. Then will come a song, "When I Am Big Like Papa," by a chorus of little boys. Master J. Linton will deliver a recitation, and choruses of little boys and girls will give childish songs. Masters D. Keenan and J. O'Leary will take part in a dialogue. J. Bartley and B. Everich will sing and J. Rilly will recite. Then will come the chorus, "Silver Bells of Memory," by the senior class. A novel feature will be a baby show, with Master D. Smith as judge. Masters D. Keenan, George Mayer and J. Desmond will give a trio. Mr. Murphy, J. Sheehan, R. Thompson and H. Connors will appear as little Irish dancers. A pleasing feature will be the performance of a drama, "The Double Throne of Religion and Patriotism."

Those who will take part are W. Deering, D. Keenan, G. Smith, D. Smith, J. O'Connor, C. Head, William Mulloy, J. O'Leary, William Egan, A. McKune, R. Sheehan, J. Morris, P. Sanders, J. Desmond, I. Reddy, L. Kalbfleisch, J. Mouny, William Sweet, E. Gimpel and George Mayer. Several other interesting numbers will follow and those who are to participate are Anna M. Horan, C. Hutchins, E. Kalbfleisch, L. Lovett, B. Devaney, A. Halloran, L. Bott, L. Manion and Marie Morris. The exercises will close with all joining in a jubilee song.

On Monday morning the children will be again in evidence, when Father Cronin will celebrate a solemn high mass at St. Patrick's church. He will be assisted by the Rev. Father Martin O'Connor, pastor of St. Michael's church, as deacon; Rev. Father Michael Melody, of St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, as subdeacon, and Rev. Father L. B. Ford, assistant rector at St. Patrick's, as master of ceremonies. The sermon will be preached by the Very Rev. J. R. Clark, O. P., Prior of St. Louis Bertrand's convent.

The jubilee proper will be celebrated on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. It will mark the twenty-fifth anniversary of Father Cronin's ordination. It is expected that Bishop O'Donoghue, who is now busy with confirmations and visitations, will find time to be present. The venerable parents of the jubilarian will come from Lexington to witness the ceremonies. Nearly every priest in the diocese and many from other dioceses will be present at the jubilee mass of thanksgiving.

As a matter of course Father Cronin will celebrate the mass. The Rev. Father Patrick Walsh, pastor of the Sacred Heart church, will be the deacon; Rev. Father Dominic Crane, Chaplain of St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, will be subdeacon, and the Rev. Dr. George W. Schumann, pastor of St. John's, master of ceremonies. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Father William P. Hogarty, of New Haven, who prepared Father Cronin as a boy for his first holy communion, who gave him that sacrament and who has his warm personal friend for more than thirty-five years. After the mass Father Cronin will be the host at a breakfast at the Seelbach. It is expected that nearly 200 priests will be his guests on that occasion.

But the laity of the congregation, the grown people, have planned their part in this coming jubilee. The work has been in progress for several weeks, and last Monday night a mass meeting of the men was held in St. Patrick's school hall. Edward J. O'Brien presided, with State Senator Mark Ryan as Secretary, and James P. Barry as Treasurer. There was a full representation from every district in the parish. Reports were heard from all the committees, and the indications for a suitable celebration are most encouraging. The following Executive Committee was chosen to detail plans: Edward J. O'Brien, James P. Barry, Senator Mark Ryan, D. J. Coleman, Martin

J. Cusick, John Boland, Thomas Trell, Capt. Thomas Kelly and the Rev. Father L. B. Ford. This committee is arranging for a reception for the grown people in honor of Father Cronin on Tuesday night, and some pleasant surprises are anticipated.

GAVE MITE.

Hibernians Will Assist in Building a Mission Church.

Division 1, A. O. H., held an interesting meeting Tuesday night, presided over by William Murphy, though President Walsh was present. After receiving one application, James J. Rilly was obligated. The Visiting Committee reported John Callahan and Andrew J. Gorman still ill but improving. The division showed its generosity by making an appropriation for the mission church to be erected at Harboursville by the Rev. P. Ambrose Regor, who is stationed at Corbin, this State. There is great need for a church in that section and the action of Division 1 will be followed by others.

Announcement was made by President Walsh that Rev. Father Riley, of Shelbyville, had been invited and would soon address a meeting of the Hibernians of this city. Favorable action was taken on communications from the County Board, and Division 1 promised to turn out for the picnic to be given at Phoenix Hill by Division 4 and the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Messrs. Thomas Keenan, Thomas Dolan, James Barry, John M. Mulloy and Martin Cusick were appointed to make arrangements for a reunion and outing, which will probably be given at Fontaine Ferry during the month of August. They are already planning for one of the largest Hibernian gatherings that has ever taken place in Louisville.

ST. COLUMBA'S DAY

Will Be Made Notable at the Celebration Tomorrow.

St. Columba's congregation will celebrate the feast of the patron saint of the church with due solemnity at the late mass at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. On this occasion a rather unusual ceremony will take place, as the members of the first class to complete the course at the school will be given their diplomas and will receive a special blessing of the church.

The children to be thus honored are Anna Eichberger, Bertha Schmitt, Amelia Welkel, Harry Bradley and Joseph Thompson. The closing exercises of the school will be held in the school hall at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening of next Wednesday. The school children will present an attractive programme and gold medals will be presented to the graduates. Other medals and premiums will be presented deservingly ones in all the classes. The Rev. Father John D. Kalar, pastor of St. Columba's, invites his friends from other parishes to attend the celebration tomorrow and the closing exercises on Wednesday.

MADE GOOD.

Mackin Council's Memorial Window for St. Cecilia's.

Mackin Council held a well attended and enthusiastic meeting Monday night and made good its promise of a memorial window for the new St. Cecilia's church, now nearing completion. Without a dissenting voice the resolution was adopted and President Konek named the committee that will make the selection. The window will be in memory of the deceased members of Mackin Council and will be one of the finest in the church, and will long stand as a monument to the spirit and devotion to the church of the Y. M. I.

Much routine business was transacted and arrangements completed for the coming initiation, which will materially increase the membership. Encouraging reports were made by the committee having in charge the sunken excursion to be given next month. Announcement was made that the proposed Niagara Falls trip was meeting with much favor, as quite a number of pledges have already been received. An event that will be of interest will be the election of delegates to the Grand Council, which always brings out a friendly but spirited contest. Thus far there are no pronounced candidates, but it is thought there will be a good field to select from when the race comes off.

JEFFERSONVILLE.

The marriage of Miss Mary Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams, 924 Walnut street, and Jesse Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Baker, 203 Weems avenue, two of the best known young people of Jeffersonville, will be solemnized at St. Anthony's next Wednesday evening, and will be one of the most interesting of the June weddings in that city. On Thursday night of last week thirty-five friends of the bride-elect tendered her a miscellaneous shower at the home of her parents, and many fine presents were received.

INQUEST

Into Murder Mystery Attracts the Widest Possible Interest.

Testimony Indicates That Remains Are Those of Alma Kellner.

Rev. Father Schumann Made An Excellent Witness in Case.

SUSPICION POINTS AT WENDLING

The inquest into the death of the child whose body was found in a cellar beneath St. John's parochial school on May 30, was begun in Coroner Duncan's office on Wednesday. While it is generally accepted that the remains are those of Alma Kellner, no attempt was made on the opening day of the inquest to identify the skeleton or articles of clothing found. The coroner's jury is made up of six well known business men, gentlemen of the highest integrity.

Richard B. Sweet, the plumber who found the remains, was the first witness called. He told how he had been employed to pump out an old cistern in the cellar beneath the school house. He began the work on Saturday, and found the decomposed body on Monday. The Rev. Father George W. Schumann, pastor of St. John's church, was the second witness, and every word of his testimony was listened to with attention.

Father Schumann made it very plain that Sweet, who found the body, had informed the police of his find before he acquainted him with the fact. He said he knew of the existence of the cellar, and that any observing person who entered the music room would have noticed the iron ring in the cellar door. The present janitor informed him during the latter part of May that there was water in the cellar, and that an offensive odor was arising from it. Father Schumann then secured plumbers to have the water pumped out and to ascertain where the leakage came from.

The reverend witness told about the services at his church on the morning of December 8, the feast of the Immaculate Conception, the same day on which Alma Kellner disappeared. In response to a query from the coroner, Father Schumann said he did not remember seeing the child in St. John's church on that morning.

He was asked whether any police or detectives had inspected the premises after the child was missed. He said such an investigation had been made. On the night that the disappearance of Alma Kellner was reported Sgt. Jerry Quill visited St. John's rectory, stated his errand and the witness told him to make as thorough a search as he wished. Father Schumann also stated that Joseph Wendling, the missing janitor, lighted a lantern and accompanied Father Schumann and Sgt. Quill in searching the church. They went from the cellar, where the furnaces are located, to the belfry tower, but found no trace of the missing child. Wendling was calm and collected throughout the search. On a later occasion Detective Steve Conley visited St. John's and made a thorough search of the church. The witness stated that as far as he knew the detective or policeman had not entered the cellar of the school house.

Father Schumann said that he had employed Wendling as janitor and his wife as a housekeeper on November 9. Wendling remained in his wife until January 14, when he disappeared. Wendling had been recommended by a Fourth avenue business firm and by the Rev. Father Van de Pitte. He had always found him a faithful servant. The witness also stated that he believed Mrs. Wendling was a good woman.

Chief of Police Lindsey told of his visit to the church and school subsequent to the finding of the body. His testimony threw no light on the matter. Deputy Coroner Kammerer told of the condition of the skeleton and of subsequently finding the missing foot in the ashes near the furnace in the basement of the church. He also told of finding a bloodstained knife in Wendling's trunk.

The inquest was continued on Thursday and evidence was adduced to show that the remains were those of Alma Kellner. The testimony has been of such a nature that the indictment of Joseph Wendling, the missing janitor, is a foregone conclusion.

WEIR-WENTZELL.

Miss Catherine Weir and Edward A. Wentzell will be united in marriage at St. John's church on Wednesday, June 22. The bride-elect is a daughter of Patrick Weir, of 511 East Walnut street. Her sunny disposition and charming manners have won her many admirers. The fortunate groom is the Assistant Superintendent of W. T. Grant & Co. tobacco exporters plant, and is well and favorably known in the West End. Mr. Wentzell belongs to a family of expert tobaccoists, and is keeping up the family reputation. Besides being a member of Mackin Council he is one of five brothers, who are members of the Knights of Columbus, and he is also a member of St. Cecilia's congregation. After a trip to Chicago and the lakes Mr. and Mrs. Wentzell will be at home to their friends at 2123 Portland avenue on July 5. No invitations to the wedding have been issued.

CARDOME.

Triple Celebration at the Kentucky Visitation Academy.

Monday was in more respects than one a great day at Cardome, the convent of the Sisters of the Visitation, near Georgetown. It was commemorated as the tercentenary of the founding of the order, and was also made the occasion of consecrating a new marble altar in the chapel, and for the reception of the white veil by three postulants. The young ladies who had this privilege were Miss Florence Mattingly, of Louisville, who will henceforward be known as Sister Anne Marie; Miss Dominica Bryan, of Jefferson county, who is now Sister Margaret Raphael, and Miss Margaret Figgerty, of St. Louis, now Sister Marie Denise.

Quite a number of friends of the young ladies, and many clergy from the dioceses of Covington and Louisville assembled at Cardome to witness the ceremonies. Bishop Maes, of Covington, presided at the consecration and at the Pontifical mass of thanksgiving that followed.

The Visitation Order was founded 300 years ago by St. Francis de Sales and St. Jane de Chantal. Pope Pius X., addressed a congratulatory letter to the venerable mother house at Anney, France, and through it to all houses of the order in the world on the tercentenary. He commends the work of the nuns during three hundred years of labor. A copy of this letter was read at Cardome on Monday. A number of children, pupils of the academy, received their first holy communion.

At noon a delightful luncheon was served, and the visitors were shown over the convent. In the afternoon the postulants received the white veils and took their first vows.

CLERICAL CHANGES.

Right Rev. Bishop Chatard Makes Several Transfers.

The Right Rev. Bishop Chatard, of Indianapolis, has made a number of ecclesiastical changes in and around the Falls Cities that are of interest to all Catholics. As had been anticipated, the Rev. Father William Seibert, of Tell City, has been appointed rector of St. Mary's, New Albany, succeeding the late venerable Father Faller. The Rev. Father Victor Klein, recently ordained and a native of Vincennes, will be Father Seibert's assistant.

The Rev. Father Donald Manning, of Indianapolis, also recently ordained, has been appointed assistant rector of Holy Trinity church, [New Albany, to succeed Father James Ryan, who has been named rector of St. Roch's church. Rev. Father Maurice Conner has been appointed assistant to the Rev. Father John O'Connell, rector of St. Augustine's, Jeffersonville.

Father Seibert, the new rector of St. Mary's, is forty-eight years old and has been ordained for twenty-four years. He is well and favorably known in New Albany. The Rev. Father George G. Borries, who served seven years as assistant rector of St. Mary's, New Albany, has been appointed rector of St. Ambrose, Franklin county. He will leave his new charge next week, and later may take a trip to Europe.

BANQUET

Will Bring Together Former Pupils of St. Xavier's.

The Alumni Association of St. Xavier's College has made arrangements for its annual banquet. It will be held at the Galt House on June 28. The officers of the association are Joseph L. Lenihan, President; William G. Burk, Vice President; Eugene McCarthy, Secretary; William G. Hume, Treasurer. The Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue has been invited to attend the banquet. Those who will respond to toasts are the Rev. Brother James, President of the college; Thomas D. Clines, Frank A. Menne, Joseph L. Lenihan, Frank G. Cunningham, W. H. Mattingly and Newton G. Rogers, Jr.

In times past the alumni gatherings have been very enjoyable, and it is the intention of the officers to make the feast this year eclipse all former ones.

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.

St. Mary's College, Marion county, will hold its eighty-ninth annual commencement exercises in the college hall at 9 o'clock next Tuesday morning. Many friends of the pupils and members of the alumnae will go to St. Mary's to attend the exercises. St. Mary's is one of the oldest educational institutions in Kentucky. It is presided over by the Recurrectionist priests. The college has turned out many able and able men.

CLARE

One County in Ireland That Does Not Lack for Water.

The Atlantic Coast Line Is Succession of Limestone Cliffs.

Many Historic Towns Along the Shannon and Fergus Rivers.

HOME OF COL. THOS. D. CLAIRE

County Clare can boast that it is plentifully supplied with water. On the west is the Atlantic ocean; Galway Bay on part of the north; the Shannon river on the east and south. Galway is to the north a distance of forty miles, and Kerry is the next county on the south. The county is named from a little town called Clare near the mouth of the Fergus river. The town got its name from a bridge of planks by which the Fergus was crossed in old times; the Gaelic word "clare" signifying a board or plank.

Clare has a population of about 140,000. Its greatest length from Loop Head to the boundary near Lough Atoric on the northeastern border is sixty-seven miles; while its greatest breadth, from Limerick to Black Head, is forty-two miles. The northern and eastern portions of the county are hilly; the middle and south portions form a broad plain occasionally broken by low hills, and in one place by a considerable mountain, Slievecavan. The barony of Burren in the north is an extraordinary region of limestone rock.

The Atlantic coast line from Limerick to Loop Head is a succession of cliffs. At Ross are two very wonderful natural bridges spanning the waves. Near the coast are abundant in caves, sharp-edged cliffs and castellated rocks, standing up like pillars in the sea, and quite detached from the mainland. But the cliffs of Moher are the crowning glory of the coast. They begin at Hag's Head and form a continuous rocky wall, perpendicular or overhanging, for four miles, varying in height from 400 to 668 feet, broken into the most fantastic forms and tunneled into innumerable caves by the action of the waves.

Ennis, the assize town or county seat, is the largest in the county. It lies on the banks of the Fergus, almost in the center of the county. It has a population of about 6,000. Within its limits are the ruins of the Franciscan abbey founded in the fifteenth century; and two miles to the north are the church ruins and the round tower of Drumcliff, a far more ancient foundation. Kilrush with its 3,800 inhabitants is at the head of the little inlet of the Shannon, into which steamers ply. It is a very prosperous town with an extensive trade. Other towns in the county that are full of historic interest are Kilkee, Killoe, Scariff, Newmarket-on-Fergus, Killadysart, Milltown Malbay, Spanish Point, Cahershall Point, Ennistimon, Clare, Tulla and Lisdoonvarna.

Sandstone flags, like the flags of Carlow, are produced around Kilrush, Kilkee and Ennistimon. The county also furnishes excellent slates. In certain parts of the county are valuable lead mines, which also produce silver combined with the lead.

Clare anciently belonged to the Province Connaught, but was annexed to Munster in the fourth century. It formed a part of the ancient Kingdom of Thomond. Kinvara, the ancient palace of Brian Boru, the Irish King slain at Clontarf in 1014, was situated at Killaloe.

Thomas D. Claire, an esteemed citizen of Louisville for many years, is a native of County Clare, and he doubtless knows many more Claremen in this section.

REVEREND VISITORS.

The Rev. Father J. H. Hillebrand, pastor of St. Boniface church, Evansville, spent several days visiting old friends in Louisville this week. He was formerly pastor of St. Mary's of the Knobs and has many friends in and around the Falls Cities. While in Louisville Father Hillebrand met the Rev. Father S. A. Holleran, of Irvington, Ky., and the two reverend clergymen paid a welcome visit to the office of the Kentucky Irish American. Both priests will attend the silver jubilee of Rev. Father Edward S. Fitzgerald at Owensboro on Tuesday. On Wednesday Father Hillebrand is to deliver a lecture on the commencement exercises of the University of Notre Dame, Ind. One week from tomorrow on June 19, Father Hillebrand will celebrate the twenty-fourth anniversary of his ordination.

JUST A RUMOR.

Correspondents of the daily papers are busy making more of them and this time they have Archbishop Moeller, of Cincinnati, for the red hat. Archbishop Moeller is now in Rome and has several audiences with Pope Pius X. This may have given rise to the rumor. Should the Archbishop be favored with a promotion to the Cardinalate none wear the honor with more dignity.

PATRIOTISM AND RELIGION.

American Catholics can well be proud of the record made by the sons of the church in every war from Revolutionary times until peace was declared after the Spanish-American embroglio. Not only were the soldiers and sailor heroes natives of America, but many were born in Ireland, France, Germany and even in far off Poland. Catholic fathers and mothers should tell their sons of the deeds of these men. Patriotism must go hand in hand with religion or else it must utterly fail. Patriotism without love of God is no patriotism at all. It is only in Catholic schools that the twin lessons of religion and patriotism are taught.

Catholic fathers and mothers owe it to their country to preserve its honor. To do this they must preserve the home by raising children who will prefer death to dishonor. Give your children a Christian education and you need not fear for the safety of the republic.

WASTE OF MONEY.

The United States, like other nations, will soon find out that we are wasting money on big battleships. Every nation should be prepared to defend itself, but the purchase of these mammoth monsters is a shameful abuse of the people's money. The British people, who have been proud of their navy and particularly of their ships of the Dreadnought class, now claim that the $150,000,000 thus expended has been thrown away. They assert that these monster ships are worthless for defense against a possible invasion, as with mines, torpedo boats and submarines the North Sea in time of war would become impossible of navigation for huge battleships.

American Congressmen and Senators ought to take notice and heed.

CONTINUE TO LIVE WELL.

One's education is not completed when one leaves school or college. Much depends upon the subsequent conduct of the boy or girl entering upon life's work. In this connection the esteemed editor of the Catholic Citizen of Rochester, N. Y., says: "A good, practical Catholic is one who is right with God, his neighbor and himself. This indeed would be the definition in general of a good man. We are born to nature before we are born to grace, and instinct moves us to provide carefully and constantly for the needs and well being of natural life. People generally, if they are wise, take care to cultivate their nature. Parents send their children to school, and children learn their lessons—reading, writing, arithmetic, language, history, geography, music, manners and the rest. All this is natural cultivation, meant to make us in time better men and women. It has been well said that we have, or should have, two educations, that which is given to us by others and that which we give ourselves. Certainly each one should carry on the cultivation of his or her nature by improving and putting forth their natural powers according to their respective abilities, opportunities and the rules of sound discretion; and this during the whole course of his life, thus glorifying their Creator, benefiting their fellow creatures and adding more and more to their own happiness and usefulness on earth."

Hon. Swagar Sherry has been renominated for Congress. Now let the good people of Louisville and Jefferson county get together and put him through next November with such a "whoop and hurrah" as the Fifth district hasn't known for years.

During the past few weeks the annual army of children have been their first communion. Would that these little ones might in mind the purifying of this sacrament on their knees the Catholic Sun, and we the sentiment.

This season of the year when the young men are about to school and take their place in the ranks of the world's workers, all remember that honesty is the greatest of all virtues. The man who would succeed must keep the confidence of his employers and fellow workmen. The false adage, "Every man has his price," has no place among right minded people, be they Catholic or non-Catholic.

The editor of the New York World says: "Kentucky has just dedicated a new two-million-dollar Capitol, built entirely within the appropriation. It seems that the land of Breckinridge can teach a few important things to Pennsylvania, the State of the Declaration of Independence." He might have added "and the State of New York."

Even ex-President Roosevelt can not please all the American editors. Those who lauded him to the skies because he offered an indignity to the Pope are now censuring him because he told the Britishers how to conduct themselves in Egypt. Another case of inconsistency.

COVINGTON

Catholics Prepare to Celebrate Bishop Maes' Jubilee.

The Right Rev. C. P. Maes, Bishop of Covington, will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his consecration on Wednesday, June 23. The handsome new Cathedral has been completed, and the silver jubilee of Bishop Maes will be its first big function. The Bishop will celebrate Pontifical high mass of thanksgiving at 9:30 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, Bishop of Louisville, who has known Bishop Maes intimately for a number of years.

The visiting clergy will be guests of the Bishop at a banquet after the ceremonies at the Cathedral. In the evening there will be a parade of the Catholic laymen of Covington, and Judge Frank Tracy will deliver a congratulatory address. A substantial purse will be presented by the laymen of the diocese.

DR. JAMES PASSES AWAY.

Dr. A. D. James, for years one of the most prominent Republican politicians in Kentucky, died at his home in Muhlenburg county on Tuesday night. He suffered from a complication of diseases and had been ill six weeks. Dr. James is mourned by many Democrats as well as by Republican friends. Fifteen years ago he came into State-wide prominence as a Republican organizer, when Col. William O. Bradley was a candidate for Governor. Knowing ones believe that the work of Dr. James had much to do with his election as Governor. Later the worth of Dr. James was recognized when he was appointed United States Marshal for the Western district of Kentucky. Still later he was elected to Congress from the Third district of Kentucky. His wife and seven children survive him.

EXPECT BIG CROWD.

Division 4, A. O. H., and the Ladies' Auxiliary both report a good sale of tickets for their picnic at Phoenix Hill Park on Monday, June 20, and there is quite a rivalry between the two as to which will have the biggest receipts for sale of tickets. Numerous special features will be introduced at the picnic, among which will be prizes for Irish reel dances and jigs, etc., several of the best in their respective lines having already entered. Collins' orchestra has been engaged and Leader Collins promises a distinctive Irish music programme for that day.

HAPPY UNION.

One of the happiest of the June weddings was that solemnized last Saturday morning in St. Dominic's church at Springfield, when Miss Flaret Simms became the bride of H. F. Rubel, a prominent and successful young business man of Lebanon. The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of the late Thomas W. Simms, Jr., and was one of Springfield's most popular girls. Both are prominent socially throughout the State and many came from a distance to witness the ceremony. The happy couple are now spending their honeymoon in the East.

MOTION PICTURES.

Everything that goes to make up an entertaining and instructive programme in the moving picture line is scheduled for next week at the Casino, Princess and Columbia. In addition to the dramatic and comedy films there will be numerous scenes worthy of note and the usual illustrated and latest songs.

FORTY HOURS' PRAYER.

The Forty Hours' prayer will begin at Holy Trinity church, Kentucky and Dupuy streets, at the 10 o'clock mass tomorrow. Rev. Father Berresheim, the pastor, will be assisted by a number of clergymen tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday.

RECENT DEATHS.

Miss Mary Frances Ryan, an estimable young lady of St. Louis Bertrand's parish, died at the family residence, 1150 South Seventh street, on Tuesday evening, and her funeral, which was largely attended, took place from St. Louis Bertrand's church yesterday morning. Miss Ryan was thirty-two years old and had lived all her life in Louisville. She was esteemed by all who knew her.

The funeral of William L. Crowley, who died at the family residence, 1735 High street, on last Saturday night, took place from St. Patrick's church on Monday, and the attendance attested the popularity of the deceased. Mr. Crowley was twenty-seven years old, and the son of Michael Crowley, formerly a foreman in the Street Cleaning department. Three brothers and two sisters also survive.

Miss Sallie Belle O'Reilly, one of Louisville's most popular young ladies, died at her summer home in Mooresville, Ind., on Sunday afternoon. She is survived by her sister, Mrs. William Franke. The deceased was the daughter of the late Dr. John J. O'Reilly and a niece of Dr. J. Halpin O'Reilly. Her funeral took place from the Cathedral on Tuesday morning and was attended by many sorrowing friends.

Mrs. Bridget McGoff, the venerable and respected mother of Mrs. George Story, 648 South Seventeenth street, and James McGoff, died early Friday morning of last week, after a short illness of pneumonia. She was born in Ireland eighty-five years ago, but came to this country when a child and had lived here nearly all her life. The funeral took place from the Sacred Heart church, Rev. Patrick Walsh officiating at the solemn obsequies.

It was with profound sorrow that the entire community learned of the death of little Mary Virginia Hines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hines, which took place late on the afternoon of Thursday of last week. The funeral took place from the residence of the child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Hines, on Saturday. The little one was only nine months old, but had won the love of parents, grandparents and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Hines have the sympathy of many friends in their grief.

The funeral of Miss Martha C. Davidson, who died at the residence of her parents, 172 Belleaire avenue, on Saturday, took place from St. Frances of Rome church on Monday morning, and was attended by many friends and relatives. Besides her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Davidson, four brothers and two sisters survive. They are John R. Thomas L., William and George Davidson, and Misses Mary E. and Irene Davidson. The deceased was only seventeen years old, but was loved by all who knew her.

The remains of Miss Katie Connors, who died at Oakland, Cal., on May 11, arrived in Louisville on Saturday, and reposed in Dougherty & McEliff's chapel until the funeral took place from the Cathedral on Monday morning. During the latter part of April Miss Connors went to California for her health, but died soon after reaching the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary O'Brien, of Oakland. The deceased was highly esteemed by all who knew her. Two sisters survive her, Mrs. George Murphy, of this city, and Mrs. O'Brien, of Oakland.

Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, an aged and respected lady of the East End, died at her home, 141 Spring street, on Wednesday morning. The deceased had lived in Louisville the greater part of her life. She is survived by five sons and two daughters. They are John Fitzgerald, engineer of the No. 10 Engine Company; James, Patrick, Edward and Richard Fitzgerald, all employees of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company; Mrs. John Cain, of Memphis, and Miss Mary Fitzgerald. The funeral took place from St. Frances of Rome church yesterday morning.

ESTIMABLE LADY DEAD.
The community lost an estimable matron by the death of Mrs. Sally May Wolff, who died at the family residence, 1224 West Jefferson street, last Saturday. Many sorrowing friends and relatives attended her funeral, which took place from St. Mary's church on Monday morning. The deceased was forty-four years old and is survived by her husband, Henry C. Wolff. Her untimely death is mourned by all who knew her.

RIVERVIEW.
Riverview Park, called nature's beauty spot, has drawn great crowds this week, and the added features to the already large number of attractions offered has increased its popularity. With three headliner acts, the best vaudeville yet seen at Riverview is promised for next week. The park concerts and the vocal numbers will be a treat for music lovers. With its 30,000 electric lights and many improvements Riverview has been transformed and will be a revelation to visitors of former days.

WINCHESTER.
The contracts for the new St. Joseph's church at the Rev. Father Hillenmeyer will erect at Winchester are to be let next Wednesday, after which the work of building will be rapidly pushed. The new edifice will be of brick and stone, 75x45 feet, and when finished Father Hillenmeyer will have one of the handsomest churches in the Covington diocese.

OUTING
Of Hibernians Under Auspices of the County Board.

The annual outing of the Ancient Order of Hibernians under the auspices of the County Board will be held at Phoenix Hill Park on Monday, July 25. From now on the Picnic Committee of the County Board will meet every Thursday night to arrange the details. It has been decided to have euchre games both afternoon and evening. There will also be a country store and numerous other accessories. At the latest meeting of the Picnic Committee it was decided to offer prizes to the young ladies selling the greatest number of tickets. The first prize will be a diamond ring; the second a gold ring, and the third a gold pin emblematic of the order. Each of the four divisions have been asked to nominate a candidate from its lady friends. Only four candidates are wanted. Young ladies desirous of entering the contest are requested to see D. J. Coleman at his home, 1653 Portland avenue, or to call him over Home telephone 4615 or Cumberland west 783-a. All nominations must be in on or before June 15.

ORGANIST
Will Celebrate His Double Jubilee in New York Tomorrow.

Dr. Edward Biedermann, one of the oldest and most noted musicians in New York City, will celebrate his fiftieth anniversary as an organist, and incidentally his twenty-fifth anniversary as organist of St. Mary's church, Grand street, tomorrow morning. The jubiliarian is the composer of several masses and a great deal of secular music. He is also well known as the editor for several New York music publications. A solemn high mass will be celebrated in honor of the event tomorrow and the musical programme will be made up only of compositions from the pen of Dr. Biedermann. The jubiliarian was born in Milwaukee in 1849, and made his debut in 1860, while studying music in Germany. Years ago the title of Doctor of Music was conferred on him by the Bever College of Music at Pittsburgh. His friends wish him more years of usefulness in his profession.

DEATH WAS UNEXPECTED.

The Catholic communities of both Covington and Louisville are mourning the death of Mrs. Anna Donohue, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. J. Flanagan, 2818 Third avenue, on Saturday night. Her funeral took place from Holy Name church on Tuesday morning. Mrs. Donohue was sixty-six years old, and was the wife of John Donohue, who for many years was foreman of the L. and N. blacksmith shop at East Louisville, and for the last twelve years foreman of the same company's shop in Covington. Mrs. Donohue died while visiting her daughter, Mrs. Flanagan. In this city. Besides her husband the deceased is survived by the following children: James and Thomas Donohue and Mrs. F. J. Flanagan.

FATHER FERRY COMING.

The Rev. Father John A. Ferry, Chaplain of the Tenth Infantry, now stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, has accepted an invitation and will come to New Albany to deliver the address at the Grand Army picnic to be held there next Wednesday.

ELOQUENT ARCHBISHOP.

Archbishop O'Connell, of Boston, has been invited to deliver the opening address at the Eucharistic Congress in Montreal next September. He has accepted the invitation.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE.

Swiss fabrics are often worn with a colored slip. Coarse Russian braid is used a great deal for trimming coats and capes. The finest of roses are used for trimming caps of muslin or lace for the baby. Linerie embroidered with the all-pervading chancelier is one of the fads of the hour.

PADUCAH GRADUATES.

The Dorian private school at Paducah will hold its annual commencement exercises in the Knights of Columbus hall in that city on Wednesday evening, June 15. The graduates this year will be Misses Mary Murrin Dorian, Mazie Friedrick and Willie Mai Rasco.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Acts of Ball Club Knockers Disgrace to the Town.

Mike Kelly's fast-going St. Paul team will begin a three-game series with the Colonels tomorrow afternoon, and the fans will be given their first chance to see the speedy aggregation that has been around the top all season. Some of the crippled Colonels are improving and may be in the line-up tomorrow, among them Moriarty to play short, which will greatly strengthen the infield. The most disagreeable feature of the present slump of the Louisville team has been the hooting and hissing of the home players by some of the fans who can be classed as "quitters," their outrageous treatment of Woodruff on Wednesday being a sample of their inexcusable conduct. Playing in an unaccustomed position and putting forth his best efforts, any fair-minded person would overlook errors, and especially those who remember "Wood's" valuable services to the club in the past. The class of men who hiss a player from behind a protecting screen are on a par with the sneak who will strike you in the back. Right now is a critical period in the fortunes of the Louisville club and every fan should give his hearty support to President Grayson and members of the team.

TRINITY COUNCIL
Receives Handsome Picture of Ex-President J. B. Kelly.

Trinity Council held a very large and enthusiastic meeting Monday evening, one of the special features of the evening being an address by Dr. Charles A. Edelen under the auspices of the Louisville Anti-Tuberculosis Association. A few of the members made up a purse and had a large photo made of Past President James B. Kelly in appreciation of the valuable services rendered by him, and presented same to the council. President Ecker made the presentation speech, and as Mr. Kelly was in attendance he was very much surprised. An announcement was made that on Monday, June 27, election for delegates to the Grand Council, which convenes in August at Bellevue, would take place, and on the same evening the revised by-laws of Trinity Council will be presented for adoption.

FIREMEN ARE VICTORS.

By a decision of the Federal Board of Arbitration appointed under the Erdman law, 27,000 locomotive firemen employed on forty-nine Western railroads will receive a general average of 10 per cent. increase in wages over the former rates. The action was taken at Chicago last Saturday afternoon. The increase granted varies from 5 per cent. on oil burning engines to about 18 per cent. on the heavy types of coal burning locomotives. Every class of the service, from switch and freight engine firemen to the men on the fast passenger and express locomotives, are included in the award. The decision means that nearly $3,000,000 annually will be added to the pay roll of the Western railroads for firemen.

MEETING PLACE CHANGED.

At a meeting of the Supreme Trustees of the L. C. B. A., held at Buffalo, it was decided to change the meeting place of the next Supreme convention from Milwaukee to Cleveland. The convention will be called to order on the third Tuesday in July. This course was taken on account of the large expense which would necessarily follow a convention in a distant place such as Milwaukee. The Supreme President, Mrs. E. B. McGowan, gave notice that she would not under any circumstances be a candidate for re-election. Mrs. McGowan has held the office for twenty years.

JOINED HOME GOERS.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O'Reilly, popular and prominent residents of Leitchfield, this State, who have been spending two weeks in New York City, have joined the homegoers and will sail next Wednesday to spend the summer in Ireland.

FATHER FERRY COMING.

The Rev. Father John A. Ferry, Chaplain of the Tenth Infantry, now stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, has accepted an invitation and will come to New Albany to deliver the address at the Grand Army picnic to be held there next Wednesday.

ELOQUENT ARCHBISHOP.

Archbishop O'Connell, of Boston, has been invited to deliver the opening address at the Eucharistic Congress in Montreal next September. He has accepted the invitation.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE.

Swiss fabrics are often worn with a colored slip. Coarse Russian braid is used a great deal for trimming coats and capes. The finest of roses are used for trimming caps of muslin or lace for the baby. Linerie embroidered with the all-pervading chancelier is one of the fads of the hour.

PADUCAH GRADUATES.

The Dorian private school at Paducah will hold its annual commencement exercises in the Knights of Columbus hall in that city on Wednesday evening, June 15. The graduates this year will be Misses Mary Murrin Dorian, Mazie Friedrick and Willie Mai Rasco.

DOUBLE EUCHE.

Mrs. L. McCloy and Miss Minnie Murray will entertain the friends of the Clifton-Crescent Club with a double euchre at their home, 1820 Frankfort avenue, next Wednesday afternoon and evening. This club has a large following in the East End, which assures a successful as well as enjoyable social function.

COWARDLY
Acts of Ball Club Knockers Disgrace to the Town.

Mike Kelly's fast-going St. Paul team will begin a three-game series with the Colonels tomorrow afternoon, and the fans will be given their first chance to see the speedy aggregation that has been around the top all season. Some of the crippled Colonels are improving and may be in the line-up tomorrow, among them Moriarty to play short, which will greatly strengthen the infield. The most disagreeable feature of the present slump of the Louisville team has been the hooting and hissing of the home players by some of the fans who can be classed as "quitters," their outrageous treatment of Woodruff on Wednesday being a sample of their inexcusable conduct. Playing in an unaccustomed position and putting forth his best efforts, any fair-minded person would overlook errors, and especially those who remember "Wood's" valuable services to the club in the past. The class of men who hiss a player from behind a protecting screen are on a par with the sneak who will strike you in the back. Right now is a critical period in the fortunes of the Louisville club and every fan should give his hearty support to President Grayson and members of the team.

 What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

 Last Sunday a class of fifty was initiated at Milwaukee.

 A class of fifty was initiated into the Ladies' Auxiliary at Washington, Ind., last Sunday.

 Ladies' Auxiliary 22 of Philadelphia at a recent meeting collected $50 for the Irish Nationalist fund.

 Memorial mass for members of the order was celebrated last week in St. Mary's church at Auburn, N. Y.

 So close is the race and eager the teams that the membership contest of Division 1 of Manchester, N. H., has been extended.

 The St. Paul Ladies' Auxiliary gave a drawing and card party Thursday night, for which they sold over 1,000 tickets.

 It is expected that there will be at least 150 delegates to the Wisconsin State convention, to be held in Janesville next August.

 The prizes given by Milwaukee Hibernians to Irish history students will be awarded tomorrow in the Cathedral High School.

 Weekly meetings are being held in Denver for the purpose of preparing for the State convention and increasing the membership.

 Division 17 of New York City has pledged its hearty support to movement now making to force from England home rule for Ireland.

 A requiem mass was sung on Monday of last week in St. Stephen's church, Buffalo, for the deceased members of the order of Erie county.

 For the first time in a number of years all the local divisions will have either reunion, outing or excursion for the members and their friends.

 There is a fine division at Birmingham, Ala., and letters from there say that a promising movement is about to be made to increase the membership.

 The gentleman who lost his hat, with the initials "T. S." therein, at the recent reception of Division 1, can obtain the same by calling upon Thomas W. Tarpey.

 Division 2 will hold its last meeting of the month next Friday night.
All the members are urged to be present, as there will be business in which every member is interested.

 The Ladies' Auxiliary of Duluth has received from the State officers a prize for having the least number of suspensions and conducting the best division in Minnesota for the year past.

 Wednesday night the Ladies' Auxiliary will hold an important session. Representation in the State convention will be discussed, picnic reports will be received and much other business transacted.

 Division 4 meets Monday night, when the programme for the Phoeenix Hill celebration will be announced. The committee and the ladies are working to make this an Irishman's day.

 The Manchester Emerald deserves well of the Hibernians and Catholics of New Hampshire. For sixteen years it has fought their battles with zeal and ability. Entering upon its seventeenth year its friends should make its circulation that many thousands.

 At the last meeting of Division 1 of Manchester, N. H., the Rev. John J. Lyons was the guest of honor, and in an eloquent and instructive address he returned thanks to the Hibernians for their recent gift of a memorial window to St. Anne's church.

LARGEST CLASS

 In History of St. Xavier's
Will Graduate This Year.

 St. Xavier's College will send out the largest class in its history when the graduation exercises are held on the evening of Thursday, June 23, at 8 o'clock. The junior boys will have their exercises on Tuesday evening, June 21. The graduates this year are thirty-two in number, and are all young men of application and ability. The list of graduates is as follows:

 Bernard I. Baete, Paul E. Bowling, Coleman A. Butler, Joseph J.
Connelly, Jesse A. Doll, W. Hugh Duane, Thomas P. Dignan, James
J. Gleeson, Francis J. Higgins,
Arthur Hooper, Frederick J. Haas,
James E. Hagan, Thomas J. Hanley,
William P. Kelly, John E. Klein,
Alton J. Kolb, Edward P. Lynch,
Henry J. Martin, Charles J. Meyer,
J. Barry Meehan, Daniel J. Moriarty,
Alphonsus J. Oblischlager,
Louis W. Osterman, Edward
B. Parker, Martin E. Ridge, Andrew
J. Renn, Richard U. Reh, Bernard
B. Schiemann, Aloisius J. Steltenpohl, Bernard H. Voor, George J.
Weldemer, John H. Wroclage.

 Scientific Course—Conrad G.
Brooker, Raymond H. Schuman,
Anthony W. Eilers.
It is very probable that the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue will be present when the young men receive their diplomas. Since coming to Louisville he has evinced an intense interest in Catholic education, and on one occasion at least had a heart-to-heart talk with the boys of St. Xavier's.

AUNT AND NIECE DIE.

 The family of William J. Shaughnessy, of 1014 East Breckinridge street, was doubly bereft this week by the death of Mrs. Mary Connor, aunt and her niece, Miss Lily Shaughnessy. Mrs. Connor was sixty-eight years old and had lived in Louisville more than half a century. Her death occurred on Sunday morning. At that time Miss Shaughnessy was very ill, and her death occurred on Monday evening. Both ladies were highly regarded, and

EXCURSION

Is Planned by Division 3,

A. O. H., For Next

August.

Division 3, A. O. H., held a well attended meeting last Monday night, and in the absence of President Patrick T. Sullivan the session was presided over by State President

George J. Butler. One new member was obligated, and it was decided to have a big initiation on the night of Wednesday, June 29. All the members were glad when it was announced that Division 3 had notice on the sick list.

The Entertainment Committee announced that after conferring with the County Board it had been decided to give an excursion up the river on the evening of August 29,

the last Monday in that month.

Every member promised to lend his best efforts toward making the excursion a grand success.

The session was interesting from the start, though the other business was of a routine nature. The suggestion of President Sullivan met with unanimous approval, and all voted favorably upon the measures submitted from the County Board.

GOOD GAMES EXPECTED.

The Columbian Athletics of Indianapolis will be the opponents of the Portland Stars tomorrow at Portland Park, and another high class contest is expected for the patrons of the popular West End park. The Portland club is going at a rapid gait just now and bids fair to eclipse last season's remarkable records. Members of the Allied Printing

Trade and union labor members in general are looking forward to the game between the Portland and the crack union printers' team of Cincinnati on July 12, this club being entered as a contender in the national championship contest of printers' clubs this year at Washington. A great many rooters among the trades unions of Cincinnati will accompany them here.

VICTIMS OF ACCIDENT.

Robert Gast, the twelve-year-old son of Col. Jacob Gast, and Rozel W.

Smith, the son of Attorney George Weissinger Smith, were seriously injured on Wednesday afternoon, when the bicycle on which they were riding was struck by an automobile.

At last accounts both boys were resting easy. They are both bright young chaps and their speedy and permanent recovery is hoped for.
